

5 Levels of Communication & Parenting Teens In Internet Age

School Family Education (SFE)

KEYVISION TRAINING & CONSULTING

Gan Eng Seng School

Communicating & Parenting Teens in the Internet Age

- What are the 5 levels of Communication that parents need to be aware of?
- What is so interesting about the Internet that our children spend hours sitting in front of the computer?
- What are some of the dangers that children face on the Internet?
- Will our children become more violent when they play computer games?
- What should I do as a parent to guide my children in this Internet age?

In this eye-opening and informative workshop, parents will be brought on a journey to discover the levels of communication and the cyber world issues facing our youth today. Our trainers will provide insights on the social impact of these internet issues as well as offer practical tips so that parents can better manage their children.

1. Awareness of the 5 levels of Communication needs
2. Current Internet trends and the addictive nature of gaming
3. Understanding on the range of cyber wellness issues facing youths today
4. Tips to effectively parent our children in this digital age

Date: 16 October 2010 (Saturday)

Time/Venue: 2pm to 5.30pm @ School

Contribution: $4*

Profile of Trainers

KeyVision Training's certified Family Life Educator, Esther Lee; Co-partner with Touch Youth to inspire parents to cope with the rapidly advancing Internet age and to equip parents with knowledge and skills to connect with their children.

Yes, I am Interested To Attend

Name _____ Contact _____

Email _____ () Contribution: _____

Name of child/Class: _____

*For more information: Please call Mdm Shariffa (64745594 x 216) or Miss Eunice Lim (64745594 x 230)